The EducatorPlus System comes with a collection of education specific templates, including posters, charts, and visual aides. These templates are available in multiple languages and are fully customizable.

The EducatorPlus's poster and banner products can help keep families informed about school programs and events. The EducatorPlus can also print custom magnets, stickers, and decals, letting families bring a piece of their school into their homes, cars, or community spaces.

The EducatorPlus can create a wide variety of visual aides for young learners including posters, charts, and decals. Utilizing these tools can support consistency between early childhood and elementary programs, and help ease the transition for young learners.

In the middle grades, the EducatorPlus can create posters of the local high school, or posters designed by local high school students. Visuals can be a powerful tool to get young learners excited about their next steps.

For high schools, the EducatorPlus can create posters for local colleges, trade schools, or other post-secondary options. Posters could also be used to communicate details about upcoming events, deadlines, and opportunities regarding post-secondary learning.

The EducatorPlus can create materials to support a wide variety of practices including PBIS, Restorative Justice, RTI, and others.

The EducatorPlus System includes access to PosterArtist, a user-friendly graphic design software. Students can use this program to design their own visuals – fostering a connection to their learning and also teaching valuable technology and graphic design skills.
