

Cheap little rhymes

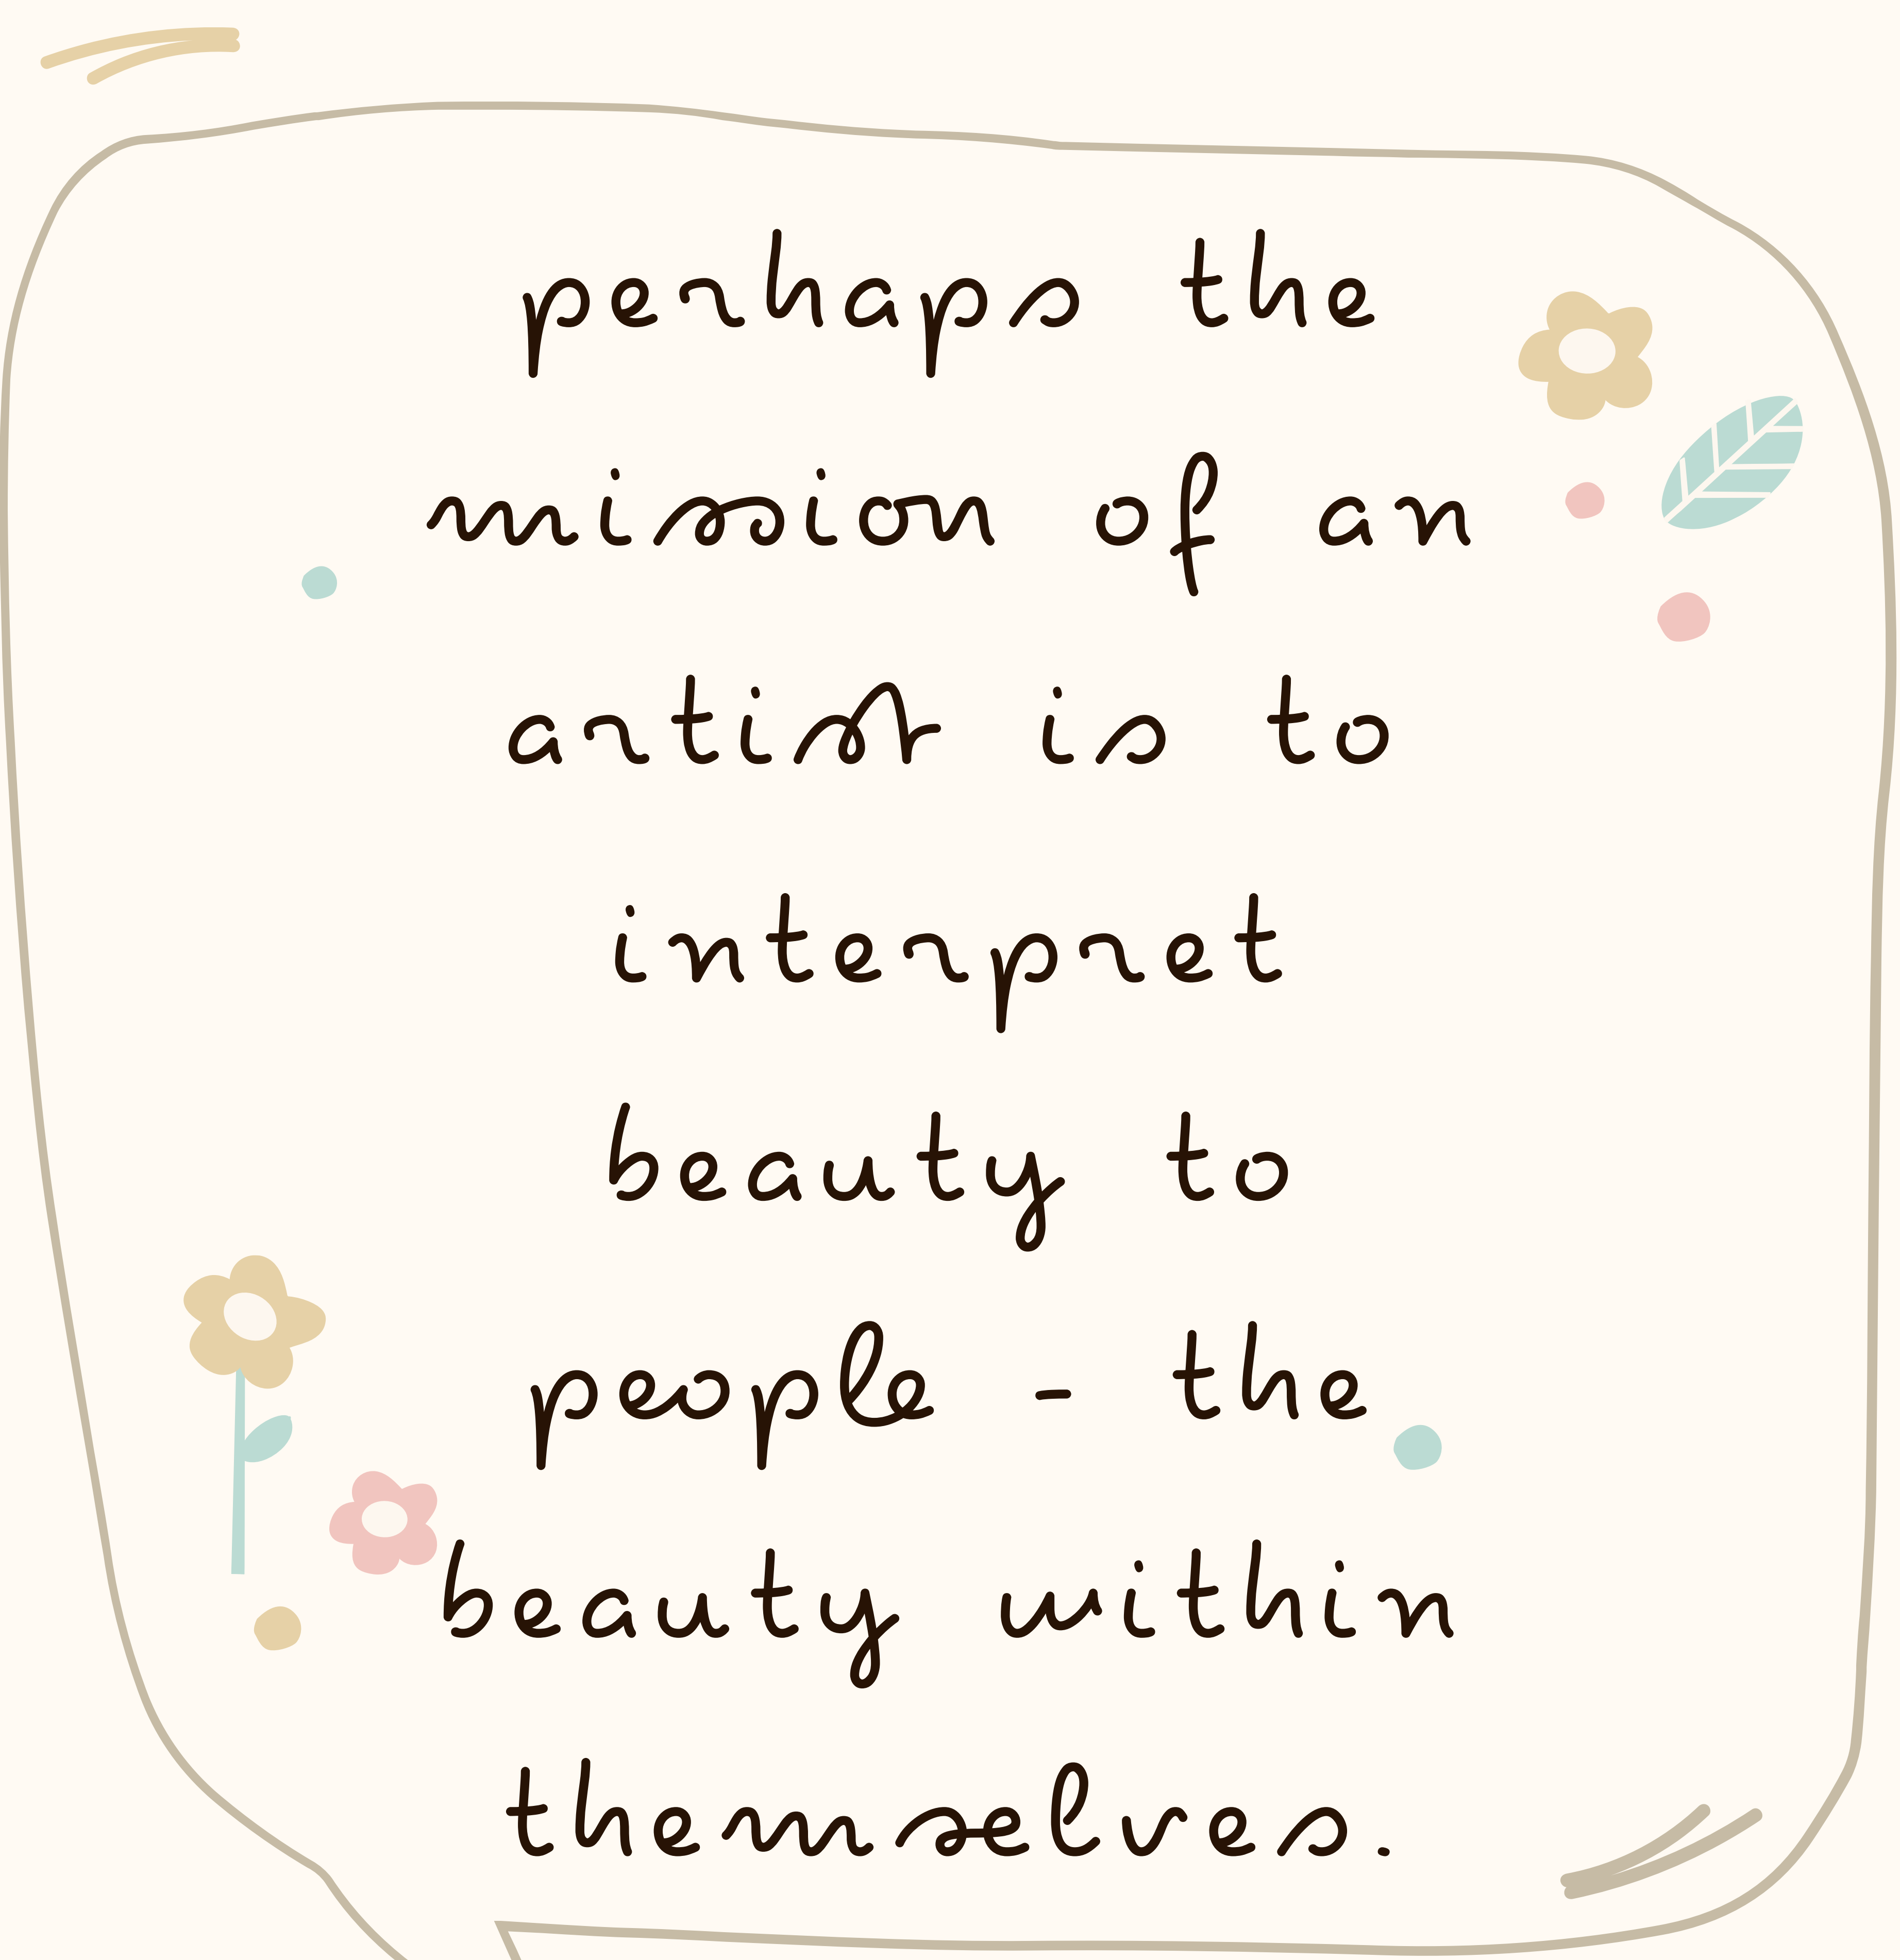

A cheap little tune

Are sometimes as dangerous

As a sliver of the moon

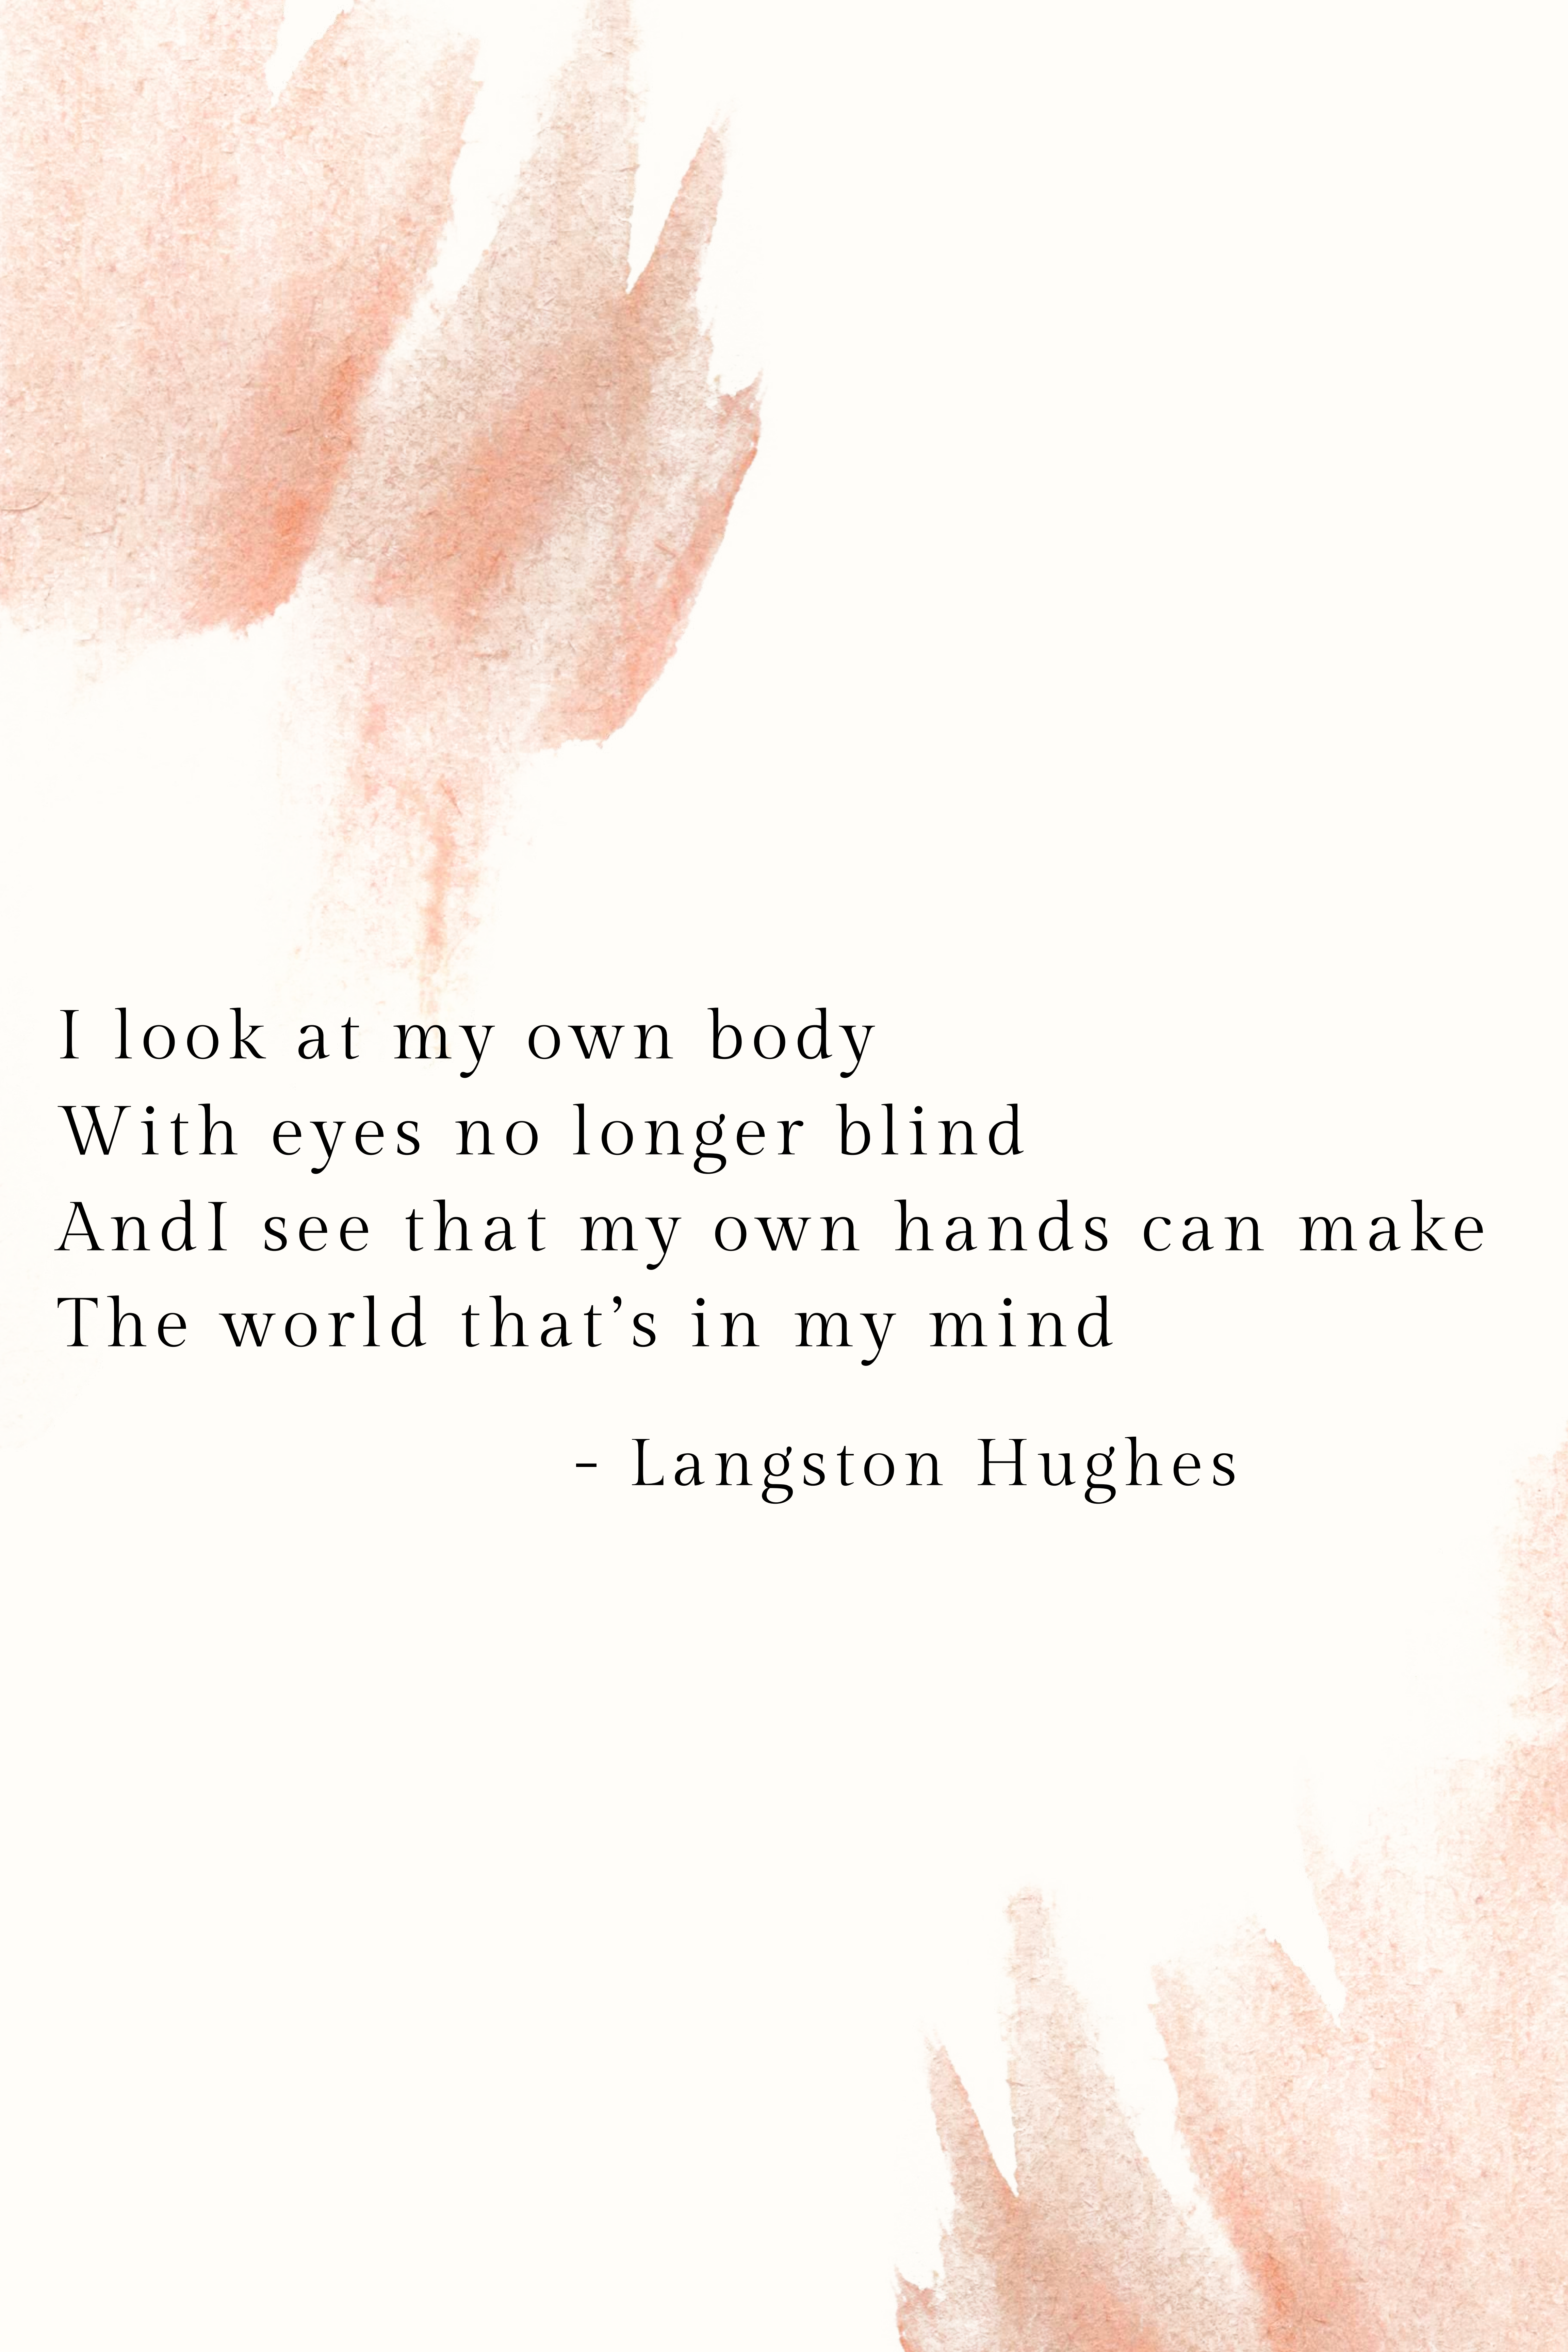

Langston Hughes

A hand-drawn quote bubble with a light beige border and rounded corners. The text is written in a cursive, handwritten style. The bubble is decorated with several small, colorful illustrations: a yellow flower with a white center, a green leaf, and several small dots in blue, pink, and yellow. The text reads: "perhaps the mission of an artist is to interpret beauty to people - the beauty within themselves." The bubble has a small tail pointing downwards and to the left, where the name "Langston Hughes" is written.

perhaps the mission of an artist is to interpret beauty to people - the beauty within themselves.

Langston Hughes

I look at my own body
With eyes no longer blind
And I see that my own hands can make The world that's in my mind

- Langston Hughes

HOLD FAST TO DREAMS FOR IF DREAMS DIE
LIFE IS A BROKEN-WINGED BIRD THAT CANNOT FLY.
